

You Can't Be Great... If You're Living The Wrong Life

THE POWER OF INTENTIONAL LIVING
LIVE THROUGH YOUR STRENGTHS™

Paul Allen Good MM, MEd

Everyone has advice about what we should do with our life.

Our family, our friends, our bosses, our religion and a billion other people on the internet....to name a few.

But how do we decide what we should be doing with our life?

What types of work, lifestyle, relationships would help us create a life we really love?

A Mis-matched” Life

As we grow up, for the most part we simply cobble together what our lives look like.

We start by following a path others create for us.

We randomly discover things we like to do.

We take whatever work just shows up, because we don't know what we're looking for.

And much too often, we're left feeling empty and disconnected.

Inside we keep asking ourselves “What should I be doing?”

Change The Game

Even from a young age, we intuitively sense something about ourself we identify as being uniquely “us.”

In fact, within our very DNA, each of us is born with a specific set of natural strengths (gifts) intentionally installed to help us succeed.

These custom abilities put us ahead of the curve within those areas.

Unfortunately, many of these gifts remain asleep and undiscovered because we don't even realize we have them.

And the more we leave our unique gifts sleeping, the louder that voice inside keeps saying "This isn't what I'm supposed to be doing."

Being Honest With Ourselves

It's popular to tell everyone "You can be anything you want to be!"

But the fact is, that's not true.

If we don't have a strong genetic bias in our DNA for math, we will never be a great mathematician.

If we're not naturally wired to have very fast eye / body coordination, we won't be a great racer.

This doesn't mean we can't enjoy doing these activities to a very proficient level, and get some great personal satisfaction from doing them.

Golf is probably one of the greatest examples.

But if we have a natural strength for it, with focused effort, we can truly excel.

Know What Game To Play

Instead of building our lives on mostly reactionary decisions, what if we had a clear perspective on the core value of who we are?

A clear sense of our own Identity, knowing what our most powerful Natural Strengths are, and recognizing what our underlying Purpose is?

How much stronger and more confident would we feel about making life decisions?

Point Your Life Towards Your North Star

Once you know what tools you have to work with on your journey...

Where do you want to go?

What is the Experience Of Life you actually want to live inside of each day forward?

This is BIG. You need to do what so few people ever stop to do in their life:

Clearly define the Experience Of Life You Want, For Your Life.

Because you can't have a life you love, if you don't know what that means to you.

And until you do, You Can't Be Great...Because You're Living The Wrong Life.

Somebody else's.

"Build Your Own Owner's Manual"™

With the world swirling around us, it's easy to lose sight of how incredible and valuable we are, not only to others, but to ourselves.

Not in an egotistical way. That only takes us further from the core of what creates happiness and fulfillment.

It is crucial we truly feel Appreciation for the capabilities we have, Recognize the strength they give us, and Honor them by putting them into action.

These "built in" tools are the Skills, Passions and underlying sense of Purpose we can bring to any of life's experiences.

That's why, at each step within the Intentional Living process, you build your own "Owner's Manual," so you never forget how valuable and amazing you really are

It becomes your ongoing reference point for decision making, or a place to go when you just need some Self-Appreciation, or space for imaging what new possibilities you could bring into the world next.

Create Your Life...Intentionally

You have a choice.

You can keep reacting to life, “cobbling” it together as you go, hearing that voice in your head saying "Why Can't I Do Something That Matters To Me?"

Or...

- 1.) Assemble the Life Tools you were given.
- 2.) Get clear about the Experience Of Life You Truly Want.
- 3.) Intentionally Start Focusing What You Do around the areas where success and fulfillment are most likely to occur for you.

"Live A Life That Light's You Up!"™

Stop waiting at the curb for your life to come along.

You'll miss out on so many beautiful experiences.

Worst of all, you'll miss out on the experience of the best of who You are.

The Power Of Intentional Living Membership was designed to help you avoid exactly that.

We start by using proven techniques and tools from psychology, science and business to help you uncover your natural gifts and understand how to apply them in your life.

Next, we show you how to define the experience of life you truly want for You.

You Can't Be Great....If You're Living The Wrong Life

Then, we help you bring that experience of life into reality with coaching, life skill training, articles, ideas and a constant connection to a caring community.

All designed to help you intentionally create a life that is fun, fulfilling and connected to what matters in your life. Your North Star.

The Power Of Intentional Living Membership only opens a few times a year.

But I don't want you to wait!

As a Thank You for your patience, I created a Free Mini-series packed with a sample of tools, ideas and techniques to help you start enhancing your experience of life right now.

Over the next few weeks, in bite sized pieces, you'll learn to uncover a few of your built-in abilities (some you likely didn't know you even had), learn new ways to improve your experience of daily life, have a few laughs (I hope) and better understand the power of a life lived Intentionally.

I can't wait to start getting to know each other, learn together and for you to begin your journey toward living each day connected to the best of who you are.

You really can "Live A Life That Light's You Up!"™

Just watch for an email from me > Paul Good (Intentional Living) and tag it as important.

Not because I'm so awesome, but so you don't miss out on learning a lot of cool things about what you can do with the built-in abilities you already have.

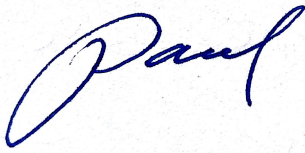

And that's just the beginning.

You get to be so much cooler than you ever realized.

You Can't Be Great....If You're Living The Wrong Life

Never stop moving forward.

Cheers,

Paul A. Good MM, MEd
